Defining The Gold Standard

From our beginning in 1992, The Registry's GOLD STANDARD business model has continuously updated and institutionalized best practices for the placement of interim executives in America's colleges and universities:

1. Registry Interim Candidate Pools are produced at no cost or incurred obligation for both prospective and established college and university clients.
2. Registry Interim Candidates are pre-qualified senior leaders immediately available and matched to the unique needs and requirements of each college or university.
3. The Registry is a membership-based interim placement organization – not a search firm – and our business model maximizes prospects for the success of the next permanent executive.
4. The Registry provides the option of a budget-neutral pricing model – overall personnel costs can be capped at current levels.
5. Registry Interims are always subject to a 30-day notice; while they cannot be candidates for the permanent position, they can be extended by mutual agreement to fulfill the evolving needs and requirements of our college and university partners.
6. Registry Interims are empowered and held accountable for the fulfillment of specific expectations defined in advance. This empowers our Interims to achieve extraordinary results and also makes it possible for institutions across the entire spectrum of American higher education to turn transitions into strategic opportunities.
